JAPANESE WHISKY

25ml / 50ml

AKASHI MEISEI

£7 / £13

Blended whisky from the Hyogo region with spice and vanilla notes, nice spicy finish

HATOZAKI PURE MALT

£7.50 / £14

Pure malt from Kaikyo Distillery, facing Seto Island Sea, rich dried fruits and delicate wood smoke.

FUJI

£8.50 / £16

Single Grain product of three different distillation at the shadow of the Mount Fuji. Rich intensity, dark chocolate and long mellow finish

NIKKA DAYS

£6 / £11

Masataka Taketsuru (1894-1979) "I want Japanese people to drink authentic whisky." More than a century later, Nikka issues this vivacious everyday sip for thousands of Japanese. Nectarine, cardamom with a short lightly pitted finish

ONIKISHI SAKURA

£7.50 / £14

Funky newcomer in the Japanese whisky industry, this distillery offers an interesting blend aged in Sakura wood barrel previously used for sake, and let us we find ripen cherry, honey and almond in the glass

KAIYO THE RAMU

£10 / £19

Limited edition blend that, thanks to a combination of Mizunara Oak and old Martinique Rum Barrels, can deliver a nice range of notes, from burned pineapples to sandalwood. Long nutmeg finish

KANOSUKE 2022

£15 / £28

Pot still Single Malt, after three years maturation in different casks it surprises for freshness and character. Deep complexity, mellow mouth-coating finish and some intense hickory and raisins notes at the nose

KYASUKU

£6 / £11

Blended world whisky, aged in Mizunara Oak (Japanese). Delicate botanical nose with aromas of citrus and apricot. Elegant, well balanced on the palate with light peat and a good sweetness.

OKUKUMA (AGED SHOCHU NOT WHISKY)

£10 / £18

From Toyonaga Distillery. This is a rice-based shochu which has been aged in sherry barrels for seven years. The nose is classic oloroso sherry, the palate is smooth and elegant with the oak very well integrated. Just 400 bottles are produced each year.
